teamglide is an employee performance and recruitment platform. It is an easy-to-use soft-ware system for identifying and choosing the best employees for your company and improving the skills of your existing employees. teamglide works to:

- Increase the performance of teams and employees
- To recruit potential prospects
- To help individual's find your job openings

This is achieved through our recruitment pipeline and a series of cognitive, personality, skills, and academic tests, with your unique corporate branding for each job vacancy and skill set, no matter the size of your company or products and/or services it provides.

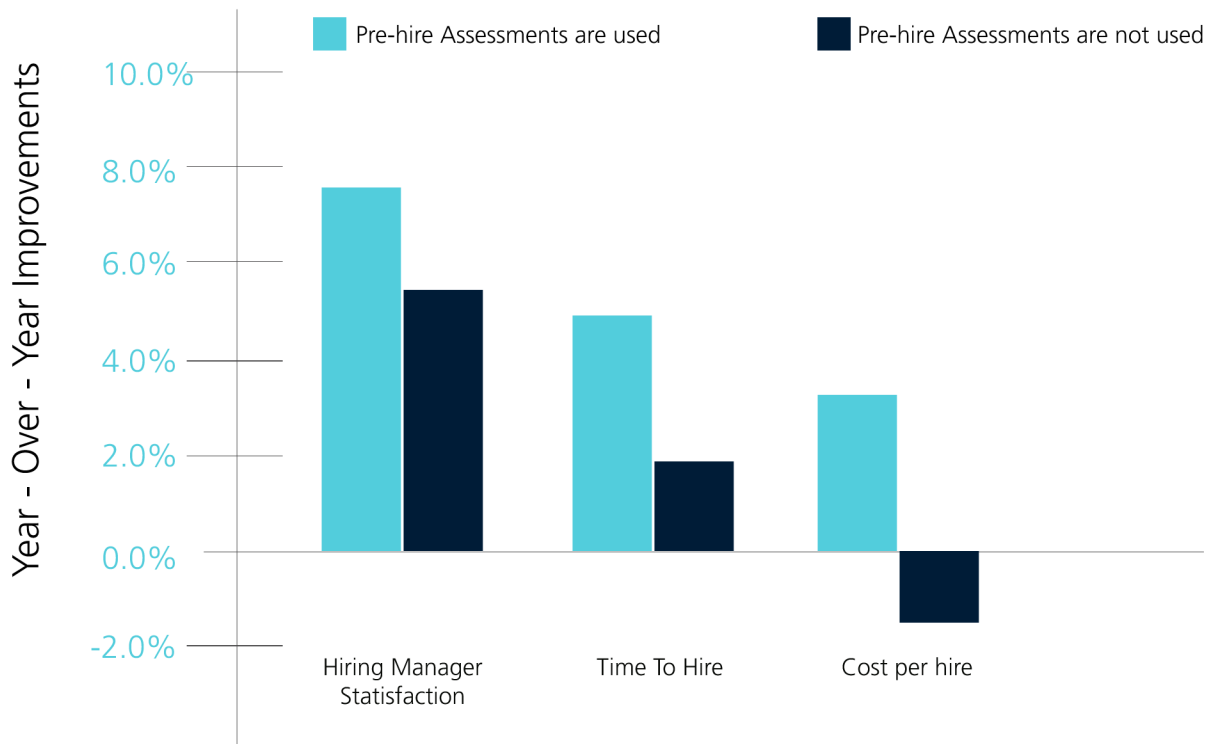

Getting started with teamglide is very easy and requires very little training. This software runs on a cloud system, SaaS (Software as a Service), which is platform independent, along with a Backend Management interface to provide the HR and/or IT team.

teamglide, ultimately, helps you recruit personnel and measure the potential performance of your team. With our consensus being that valuable and knowledgeable employees help companies out perform but great teams help companies to excel and grow. Let us help you build a valuable workforce.

About Pre Employment Testing In Today's Job Market

According to report compiled for the Aberdeen Group, the majority of today's most successful business believe that testing enables them to more quickly and accurately determine just how effective and capable a candidate would be on the job. According to Aberdeen's research, companies that have implemented pre hire testing programs appropriately and effectively have seen terrific returns on their investment. They are 24 percent more likely to have a high percentage of employees who exceed performance expectations, 17 percent more likely to have employees who rate themselves as highly engaged, and 36 percent more likely to be satisfied with new hires than businesses that do not use pre employment testing.
